

KATIE MURDOCH

DIGITAL DESIGNER

HELLO

I'm Katie, a digital designer currently living in Köln. My goal is to create functional, user-centric products that reflect empathy and understanding for the people who use them. I excel in a dynamic, team based environment but I also enjoy working independently where I can deep dive into the unique needs of a design problem and create a comprehensive solution. I am a hard-working, passionate designer; let me show you what I can do.
